Different*

About Us

BEE Different is a project promoted by the organization “Lapsus- different creativity” in collaboration with the organic farm “Agrighianda”, which specializes in beekeeping.

“Lapsus” promotes the use of all expressive arts as a vehicle to overcome conflicts related to social inclusion of adults with disabilities and aims to assist them in expressing their feelings and emotions through visual arts.

The organic farm Agrighianda is located in the center of Italy, in the Marche region, and managed by Giacomo Tognon, a local beekeeper who raises bees organically. These insects are fundamental in maintaining biodiversity and monitoring environmental changes.

The Project

The project allows young adults with disabilities to explore the complex world of bees through visual arts. These vital insects are often perceived as dangerous, and their role in the ecosystem is neglected. Similarly, the potential of disabled people is underestimated, their creativity normally being undervalued.

BEE Different aims to bring these two worlds together because we recognize diversity as an important value to be promoted.

Our Work

We promote a series of tailored workshops and public talks regarding bees and biodiversity as well as shows of artworks produced during the workshops. During the last year we created an educational apiary with five traditional hives and an observation hive.

As a part of the project activities all hives were painted, decorated and placed in the organic farm Agrighianda.

The apiary is now a permanent feature of the farm and it allows the development of new educational projects. The apiary is maintained daily in order to allow visitors to observe the bees and the drawings made by Lapsus.

*"We recognize diversity
as an important value
to be promoted"*
